About House of 95s

House of 95s is an independent online sneaker store dedicated to the sale and resale of Nike Air Max 95 sneakers. The brand is built around the cultural influence, design legacy, and timeless appeal of the Air Max 95, offering curated pairs for sneaker enthusiasts, collectors, and fashion-conscious buyers.

The Legacy of the 95

First released in 1995, the Nike Air Max 95 became one of the most recognizable silhouettes in sneaker culture. Known for its anatomy-inspired design, layered upper, and visible Air units, the shoe evolved from a performance runner into a streetwear icon. At House of 95s, this legacy shapes the identity of the brand and influences the visual storytelling of the website.

The Legacy

The Air Max 95

From a performance runner to a streetwear icon — the story of the most iconic Air Max silhouette ever made.

Born in 1995

Designed by Sergio Lozano and inspired by the human anatomy — the spine, ribcage, and muscle layers — the Air Max 95 was unlike anything Nike had released before. Its layered upper and full-length visible Air unit changed the game.

Timeline

1995 - Original Release

Neon Yellow / Black "OG" colourway drops. Instant cultural impact in London and Tokyo.

2000s - Streetwear Adoption

The 95 becomes a staple in grime, hip-hop, and street culture across the UK and beyond.

2015-2020 - Collaboration Era

Corteiz, Comme des Garçons, Supreme, and more collaborate with Nike on 95 editions.

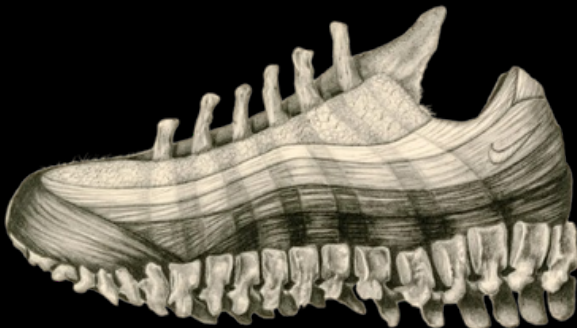

2026 - Still Iconic

The Air Max 95 remains one of the most collected sneakers in the world.

Design Anatomy

Visible Air Unit
Full-length Air cushioning in the midsole.

Layered Upper
